To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great enthusiasm that I write in support of Alexandra Dyer Davis as she applies for a teaching position in your district. As House Principal, I have been fortunate to have Alexandra serve as one of the class advisors for the class of 2017. I can confidently say that she is one of the most collaborative, passionate, and energetic class advisors and teachers that I've had the pleasure of working with and observing. Any district would be better for having Alexandra on staff – and any student would be changed for good.

Through my observations of and interactions with Mrs. Dyer Davis, I quickly realized that she is a teacher who cares deeply for her students; who seeks to broaden the range of experiences for our students; who critically thinks and cooperatively plans with her co-advisors, house teams, and colleagues; and who inquires for opportunities for individual feedback and professional growth. Mrs. Dyer Davis was instrumental in initiating and advising several notable activities this school year that helped to build and sustain an inclusive school community and that supported a stronger, more positive school culture.

Mrs. Dyer Davis helped transition a sophomore class of nearly 500 students to high school in August of 2014. As part of the transition, Alexandra and her co-advisor interviewed and selected an advisory council of students to serve as leaders of our class. This group planned one of the most successful homecoming dances that our school has ever had and sponsored numerous activities throughout the year that supported our local community and helped foster kindness and appreciation in our school community. Through her leadership, she helped build leadership capacity in our students, making them not only better class leaders but better people. She is a driven, student-focused, collaborative professional who wants to be better each day and who sets high expectations for her students to ensure they, too, are better each day. While our class will not be the same without her, it will not be the same because of her.

As one of her supervisors, I am very sad to see her leaving Central Bucks High School West. She has been an asset to our school and our students. Without any hesitation, I recommend Alexandra Dyer Davis for a position in your district. If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

David O. Hoffman
House Principal
