

Alexandra was truly a pleasure to work with. She is extremely well organized, dedicated, and always went beyond what was asked of her. Alexandra was a pivotal team member who truly became a leader among her peers. Whether organizing team fundraising events or assisting with administrative work, Alexandra approached every task with great enthusiasm and a smile on her face. She came up with creative solutions for difficult problems and brought many great ideas to the table. She excelled at bringing the less outgoing members of our committee out of their shell and went out of her way to include everyone. At the end of the year, Alexandra was awarded special recognition for her dedication and hard work from her peers. I consider myself extremely lucky to have had Alexandra work with me last year. Any employer would be lucky to have her on their staff.
